TRUMAN TAKES HAND IN COAL STRIKE

SHORT WHEAT SUPPLIES MAY SLASH FLOUR

MILLERS DOUBTFUL OF TURNING OUT 75 PERCENT

Chicago, April 20 (AP)—Americans may have to cut their consumption of bread and other wheat products even more than the 25 percent ordered by the government unless a federal bonus inducement brings a rush of stored wheat from the farms, milling sources indicated today.

A survey of the government's program for a 25 percent slash in flour consumption to combat famine in Europe brought these reactions:

1—C. D. Mc Kenzie, president of the Miller's National Federation, said unless farmers release their stores of wheat it is "extremely doubtful" sufficient grain would be available at the mills to produce 75 percent of the flour they turned out last year.

2—Dr. Franklin Bing, director of the American Institute of Baking, the scientific and educational arm of the American baking industry, said the wheat slash probably would mean a horizontal one-fourth reduction in all products containing flour. There was no prospect, he added, that bread production could be kept up with a corresponding additional reduction in other bakery goods.

3—Most farmer, milling and grain trading sources said they believed the plan for a bonus payment of 30 cents a bushel would succeed in bringing stored grain from the farms although a "wait and see" attitude was taken by some.

4—Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association, said the slash in wheat consumption would "do more good than harm" for the average American. Dr. Fishbein said the nutritional value of wheat products was available in other foods and that overeating was an important contributing factor in shortening longevity after middle age.

Smaller Mills Closing

"Everything possible" must be done to bring wheat from the farms, Mc Kenzie said, and if present measures don't turn the trick "we must seek out and institute others."

The government is seeking to draw off 160,000,000 bushels of wheat from American farms during the present food crisis.

Some mills already have been forced to close because of a lack of wheat, a survey showed, while some large mills, like Pillsbury, have been operating at reduced capacity.

Charles W. Stickney, State Production and Marketing Administration director for Minnesota, said farmer reaction to the plan was favorable in the Minnesota-North Dakota Red River Valley area and in Montana where 110,000,000 bushels of the grain are stored.

President Charles Wright of the Omaha grain exchange said farmers had been holding back grain supplies in the hopes of some such incentive as a bonus payment.

Although wheat stocks are the lowest in recent years, no long-range problems are expected to result from the use of this grain. A large winter wheat crop has been forecast for this year and grain in storage could be built up quickly.

Camp Guard Found Guilty Of Beating GI's At Lichfield

BY ROBERT HEWETT

London, April 20 (AP)—S/Sgt. James M. Jones, former Litchfield detention camp guard, was convicted by a U. S. Army court martial today of assaulting soldier-prisoners and sentenced to six months imprisonment, but the court recommended that higher authorities grant him clemency.

Both prosecuting and defense attorneys had declared that prison officers instead of enlisted guards should be tried for what witnesses called the "get rough" policy against prisoners at Litchfield in 1944-45. Six officers are awaiting trial.

Jones, of Muskagee, Okla., was ordered to forfeit $18 monthly during his six months term, but the court announced he would not be confined pending review of his case by Col. Claude M. Thiele, commanding officer of the London area office.

Major Leland Smith, trial prosecutor, said testimony of guards and officers disclosing orders to "get tough and rough with prisoners" constituted "mitigation of the highest order" in considering Jones' punishment.

"It is a very sorry spectacle, if this is true, that the first two to be tried should be enlisted men. They are not the ones primarily responsible if this condition existed at all," he said.

A defense attorney, Lt. M. C. McGee of Birmingham, Ala., declared many of the soldier-prisoners at Litchfield were deserters, and that "there was a definite system * * * to beat the men and make them miserable."

SENATE SWAPS WORRYING OPA

Lifting Price Controls On Pet Commodities Biggest Threat

BY WILLIAM T. PEACOCK

Washington, April 20 (AP)—Reports of back stage "bartering" over whether senators shall help lift price controls off each other's pet commodities had some friends of OPA worried today.

These reports had it that some cotton state, livestock state, mineral state and other senators with particular interests are telling each other:

"You help take price control off my commodity and I'll help take it off yours."

This mutual aid for mutual gain technique is usually defined as "log rolling."

Meanwhile Senator LaFollette (Prog.-Wis.) expressed belief the Office of Price Administration had a fighting chance for its life in the Senate, but only if it corrects what he called its mistakes in swifter fashion.

The Senate will not come to grips with the OPA issue for another two weeks or more at the earliest. Its banking committee still is holding hearings and, once they are concluded, there may be extended closed-door discussion by the committee.

Biggest threat to OPA is among the senators who generally vote together for farm interest.

Rep. Hook Eased Out Of Running For Court Judge

Washington, April 20 (AP)—Attorney General Tom Clark said after a White House call today that he had discussed with President Truman a vacancy on the federal court bench in the western district of Michigan. He did not expand his statement.

Rep. Hook (D-Mich.) no longer a candidate himself to succeed the late Judge Fred M. Raymond, told a reporter he had urged the attorney general to recommend Joseph M. Donnelly, former U. S. attorney in the district, but understood no decision had been reached.

Hook, who had been backed for the appointment by Rep. Lesinski, chairman of Michigan's Democrats in Congress, said he had withdrawn and was seeking reelection "at the request of party leaders."

E. C. Bevan, Michigan's Democratic national committeeman, has urged appointment of Raymond W. Starr, Grand Rapids, state supreme court justice.

His recommendation was opposed by Lesinski on grounds that it would enable the Republican state administration to fill Starr's place on the supreme court.

PLANT CLOSED AGAIN

Greenville, Mich., April 20 (AP) — A shortage of castings closed the Gibson Refrigerator Co. plant today until May 6, a company spokesman said. Production had been resumed April 2 after a six-week layoff as a result of the steel and electrical strikes.

Food Sent To Japan Causes Resentment

BY GRAHAM HOVEY

Washington, April 20. (AP)—The Far Eastern commission next week may ask the United States to reconsider its decision to ship more than half a million tons of food to Japan by the end of June.

Such a request appeared probable as members of the commission's economic and financial affairs committee met for the second straight day to discuss the American food shipments to Japan which have caused resentment in some hard-pressed Allied countries.

The commtitee will meet again Monday and is expected to draw up a report on the matter which probably will be acted on by the full commission at its regular Thursday meeting.

The United States contends that the food shipments are strictly a problem for this government and the British - American combined food board.

Some of the countries represented on the 11-nation policy making commission feel strongly that the shipping of food to the former enemy country is a proper concern of the commission action, especially in the light of the widespread food shortages in Allied nations.

China, India and the Philippines have expressed concern over the American food shipments to Japan. At yesterday's committee meeting, R. R. Saksena of India and Dr. S. C. Wang of China outlined at some length the desperate food situations faced by their respective countries, for possible comparisons with the Japanese outlook.

Sir Carl Berendsen, of New Zealand, said officials of General Douglas MacArthur's command had told commission members in Tokyo in January that the Japanese were eating "more food than before the war."

American officials point out, however, that the spring months are always the ones in which the Japanese food supply is shortest. They emphasize that the United States is sending food to Japan only to prevent unrest and violence which might endanger the lives of American occupation troops.

NATION ADVISED TO CUT WASTE

Government Suggests Ways Of Helping In Food Famine

BY ARTHUR EDSON

Washington, April 20 (AP)—If on Easter morning the plight of the hungry millions in Europe and Asia hits you more forcibly, here's how the government suggests you can help them.

1. If you're a house wife—

Never throw a piece of bread or a teaspoonful of fat away.

Make sure the garbage consists only of bones, eggshells and the inedible parts of fruits and vegetables.

Don't overeat.

Eat all they serve you at a restaurant.

Stay away from pastries. Order fruit instead.

Plant a vegetable garden.

Be a one-man information bureau. Spread the word around that the world food situation is critical and will remain that way for at least three months.

3. Everybody—

Cut down on waste. The department of agriculture estimates that one slice of bread in every loaf is wasted. This alone would give 2,500,000 people in Europe three-fourths of a pound of bread a day.

Remember that people are starving, that many will die unless help comes soon.

And remember that that help can only come from you.

The suggestions come from government food officials questioned on what the individual can do to help in the areas where Easter will be just another day of hunger.

Family Increases Permitted Without Asking Landlords

New York, April 20 (AP)—Lucky holders of scarce apartments in New York City now may increase their families without consulting their landlords—thanks to legislation signed today by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, in Albany.

The law makes it a misdemenor for a landlord to demand in a lease a stipulation that the tenants will not have any babies during the term of the lease.

The governor's legal staff in Albany said such a practice was not general.

Lewis D. Olliffe, Brooklyn Republican who introduced the legislation, said he did so after hearing that landlords in famed Flatbush were thus stunting normal growth of the population.

One person mailed him a copy of a lease containing the no-babies limitation, he said. After introduction of the measure, his mail bag bulged with letters from others similarly thwarted, Olliffe declared.

The legislation was undebated and unopposed in the legislature.

SURVIVORS GET $11,095

Detroit, April 20 (AP)—Since fire destroyed the Rubalcaba home, killing the father and five of the children a week ago, well-wishers have donated $11,095.58 to a fund to aid the surviving members of the family, friends said today.

Mrs. Carmen Rubalcaba was giving birth to a daughter in a hospital at the time of the fire. Two other children escaped.

LOW CEILINGS ORDERED FOR NEW HOUSING

ONE - FOURTH MUST BE BUILT FOR RENTAL

BY STERLING F. GREEN

Washington, April 20 (AP)—The government tonight ordered new, reduced cost ceilings for the bulk of new dwellings and directed that one-fourth of them be built for rental.

The national Housing Admintration order will steer, by priority action, most of the country's residential building materials into homes well under the present $10,000 sales and $80 rental limit.

Announced by housing expediter Wilson W. Wyatt, the order directs that:

One-fourth of the dwellings henceforth authorized in any city must be built for rental; and of these, at least half must rent at or below ceilings which range from $40 monthly in new Orleans to $65 in New York.

Priorities Hold Whip

Half of all homes built to be sold must come below a new price line which also varies from city to city; $4,500 in New Orleans, for instance, and $9,000 in New York.

It will be the job of federal housing officials over the country to induce builders to undertake the low-cost and rental housing projects.

They must account for over 60 per cent of authorized dwellings.

The government's whip is the withholding of priorities on scarce lumber, materials and supplies.

Other houses may range in price up to the $10,000 sales and $80-a-month rental limits already fixed for the veterans housing program. But Wyatt said that the new "channeling" order will immediately "increase by 50 per cent the homes built under $6,500" in April, May and June.

War Veterans First

Veterans who apply to build their own homes will get first preference in the issuance of priorities, the order specifies. Next preference will go to builders who agree to sell or rent under the new dividing line.

Aim of the order is to provide as many homes as possible below the $6,000 price class in meeting President Truman's veterans housing goal of 2,700,000 homes in two years.

Wyatt said this does not mean that houses under $6,000 will be produced at once in all parts of the country, but as building costs are lowered through big-volume construction the dividing lines will be lowered.

Sales and rental ceilings for different cities will be announced by local FHA directors, who fix them in accordance with the formula laid down in the order.

Baby Brother Dies In Trailer Blaze; Two Badly Burned

Lakeview, April 20. (AP) — Two child survivors of a trailer fire which Friday claimed the life of their two-year-old brother are in a critical condition at Kelsey hospital here.

Dr. Lee Kelsey, their physician, said Ronald, 1, and Jean, 3, children of Mr. and Mrs. William McAllister, showed some improvement today. He described them as suffering severe burns covering most of their body.

The fire, which claimed their brother, Harvey, occurred at a trailer camp in Blanchard where the family made its home.

The tragedy is said to have resulted from an oil stove explosion. Will Nelson, village marshal, investigated the accident.

Pre-Easter Buying Makes New Records

New York, April 20 (AP)—Pre-Easter buying pushed to the highest point in history during the past week after three months of record-breaking volume.

Describing the current buying wave as "almost like a Christmas rush," Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., estimated that sales for the final pre-Easter week would be well ahead of the preceding week and 40 to 45 per cent higher than the same week a year ago.

Last December still holds the record for dollar value of retail sales for the nation, but each succeeding month has topped its previous peak, Dun & Bradstreet said.

Principal shortages Easter shoppers have had to contend with have been in men's clothing, white shirts, women's hosiery, certain types of better grade goods and all sorts of household appliances requiring fractional horsepower motors, Lazarus said.

Easter Celebrated By World At Peace In East And West

(By The Associated Press)

A world at peace for the first time in nearly a decade today celebrated the joyous Christian festival of Easter.

The feast fell on the same date in both eastern and western churches for the first time since 1943.

The difference in calendars used by the two churches—the Julian in the East and the Gregorian in the West—brought Easter to the Eastern churches on May 6 last year, while the West celebrated on April 1. The year before the East observed the holiday on April 16 and the West on April 9.

The celebration came to Russians for the first time since the Russian revolution more than 20 years ago.

Japanese filed into Christian churches in an atmosphere of peace for the first time since the Sino-Japanese war began nine years ago.

Americans and Europeans today marked the Easter holiday in complete peace for the first time since 1939.

In Jerusalem the coinciding Eastern and Western feasts filled churches to overflowing, despite the air of tension caused by recent riots and the continuing strike of 50,000 civil workers. Armed Arab Legionnaires mingled among the worshippers, their eyes watching for any signs of violence.

The annual passover of the Jews and the religious observances of Moslems contributed to the religious atmosphere in the city.

German priests and ministers preached sermons and conducted services, free at last from the shadow of Hitler's gestapo.

Hundreds of thousands of Russians filled churches in Moscow as church bells called the faithful to worship. Churchmen said the celebration was reminiscent of the age-old Russian Easter ritual.

From Vatican City, Pope Pius XII called on leaders to be courageous and to fight "Godless" political theories. He listed "divorce, Godless schools and unbridled books and licentious entertainment" as threats to Christian morality.

England had double cause for celebration. The 20th birthday of Princess Elizabeth fell on Easter and Windsor Castle had its largest house party since 1938, with all members of the royal family who were in the country and several young friends of the princess in attendance.

Americans across the country held their services from sunrise through mid-day in many settings —from cathedrals and mountain tops to simple country churches.

Sixteen states were represented at services in the Amphitheater of Arlington National cemetery in Washington. More than 100,000 persons watched a sunrise pageant with a cast of 1,000 in the Holy City of the Wichita mountains, 15 miles northwest of Lawton, Okla.

PEACE TREATIES UP FOR ACTION

Showdown With Russia May Be Reached At Paris Meeting

BY JOHN A. PARRIS

London, April 20. (AP)—Authoritative diplomatic quarters leaned strongly today to the view that the four power foreign ministers conference in Paris next week will make or break the prospects for a united peace settlement in Europe, and perhaps bring a showdown with Russia.

There was a growing belief that the conference opening next Thursday may be the final effort to achieve collaboration by the United States, Russia, Britain and France on peace treaties for Italy, Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary.

Support for this view was seen in the recent statement by U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes to the senate foreign affairs committee that if the four powers could not agree on a peace treaty with Italy the United States might write a separate treaty.

Authoritative diplomatic sources said both Britain and the United States realize there is a possibility that the conference may produce a showdown with Russia. Because of this possibility British and American officials will enter the talks determined to do everything possible to mend widening relations between Russia and western powers, but without prejudicing British and American policies.

Major issues facing the foreign ministers on which there is no sign yet of agreement principally concern Russia's claims against Italy. These include trusteeship of Tripolitania, a third of the Italian navy, $100,000,000 in reparations—all refused by Britain and the United States.

Premier Shidehara May Resign To Be Foreign Minister

Tokyo, April 20 (AP)—Japan's latest political crisis moved toward a showdown tonight as a spokesman hinted that Premier Kijuro Shidehara might resign to become foreign minister in a new cabinet.

Heretofore the 73-year-old baron has steadfastly rejected demands that he step down, and recently let it be known he would try to form a coalition government from among conservatives elected to the new Diet.

Tonight, however, his principal spokesman—Cabinet Secretary Wataru Narahashi—intimated the possibility of a "deal" by telling the Japanese press the next cabinet should include Shidehara as foreign minister regardless of who might be premier.

State OPA Attorney Assigned To Hawaii

Detroit, April 20. (AP)—Theron M. Hall, chief district enforcement attorney of the Office of Price Administration in Michigan, will assume charge of all OPA activities in the Hawaiian Islands in May, Lawrence L. Farrell, Detroit district director, announced today.

Hall entered the OPA organization in 1942 and served as chief rationing attorney for the district prior to his appointment as chief enforcement attorney. He is a Detroiter.

Farrell said Fred W. Lindblom would succeed Hall. Lindbloom has been serving as section chief of the rent and durable goods unit.

JOHN L. LEWIS SUMMONED TO WHITE HOUSE

NEGOTIATIONS WITH MINE OWNERS MAY BE RESUMED

BY NORMAN WALKER

Washington, April 20 (AP)—President Truman took a hand in the 20-day soft coal strike today in an unheralded White House talk with John L. Lewis, and Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach.

The two had a 15-minute conference with Mr. Truman and Reconversion Director John W. Snyder but the White House said afterward the meeting had been without any "conclusive result."

Nevertheless Lewis and Schwellenbach left the meeting in obvious good humor and the labor secretary said he intended to get in touch with Ezra Van Horn, chairman of the mine operators joint negotiating committee.

It was considered probable the president had asked Lewis, chief of the 400,000 idle United Mine Workers, to resume joint negotiation with the mine owners. However, Charles G. Ross, White House press secretary, told reporters he could neither confirm nor deny whether the president had made any proposal.

Blocked Since April 10

In response to questions Schwellenbach declared there would be no resumption of strike negotiations, either with both sides separately or together, until next Tuesday at the earliest. Lewis has a date Wednesday at Hazelton, Pa., to attend the meeting called to form UMW's new contract demands for 72,000 anthracite miners. The hard coal contract expires May 31.

The bituminous, or soft coal, situation has been at an impasse since April 10 when Lewis walked out of joint negotiations with the operators. He said futher talks were useless. Lewis wants a settlement of his demand for a union-administered health and welfare fund for miners financed by a tonnage levy on coal production, and also for improved safety conditions.

The operators have insisted on settling wage and hour issues before discussing anything else with Lewis, Schwellenbach has been trying, without success so far, to get both sides agreed on talking about the same thing at the same time.

Two hours after the White House meeting, the labor department reported that Schwellenbach had been unable to reach Van Horn and had decided to postpone further efforts to reach him until tomorrow.

Shortage Gets Serious

A labor department spokesman said, however, that Schwellenbach is convinced he can get Lewis and the operators together in joint talks again whenever he wants but that it would be useless until some basis is worked out beforehand for genuine collective bargaining.

Ross told reporters the object of the White House session was to appraise the president fully "on the situation from Mr. Lewis' point of view."

CHINA WILL NOT DEFEND HARBIN

Communists Set To Seize North Manchurian Metropolis

BY HAROLD K. MILKS

Chungking, April 20 (AP)—Chinese Communists encircling Harbin declared today they intended to seize that north Manchurian metropolis, which the government indicated it would not even try to defend.

A government spokesman said the situation in central Manchuria was "very grave' now that Communist troops have taken Changchun, the capital, 150 miles southwest of Harbin.

A Communist spokesman warned that the encircling troops would seize Harbin when the Russian army pulls out next Thursday "if a status of civil war still prevails in Manchuria."

That would give General Marshall, special U. S. envoy of China, only five more days to work out a truce first between the warring factions.

Marshall was in almost continuous conferences with both government and Communist officials. He had not scheduled a meeting of his truce committee of three, which earlier this year worked out an armistice for the rest of China outside Manchuria.

A government spokesman charged that Communist irregulars already were infiltrating Harbin. He said the government had no army forces in Harbin—only civil officials.

Port Huron Store Damaged By Fire

Port Huron, April 20 (AP)—Fire of undetermined origin tonight caused extensive damage to the Sperry Department store, largest merchandising unit in the downtown area.

Fire officials said the blaze was confined to the basement and rear of the first floor of the store, but added that heavy smoke penetrated the upper floors and caused additional damage. No estimate of the fire loss was made.

Scattered Showers May Wet Easter Lid

Detroit, April 20 (AP)— Better hurry home from church Easter Sunday.

The weatherman says the morning will be clear, but he threatens scattered showers in the afternoon which could raise havoc with Easter finery.

The temperature is expected to reach 60.

CAPE COD AREA FORESTS BURN

High Winds Race Fires Through Woods In Eastern States

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fires fanned by high winds raced through wooded areas in New Jersey, Massachusetts and Maryland yesterday, destroying thousands of acres of forests and defying efforts of fire fighters to bring them under control.

Flames enveloped 15 square miles of scrub pine in the Cape Cod area of Massachusetts, and one injured fire fighter was taken to a hospital. Gov. Maurice Tobin ordered woodlands in four counties closed.

About 500 regular firemen and volunteers were battling the blaze which centered in an area about nine miles southeast of deactivated Camp Edwards, Mass.

Three fires near Fort George G. Meade, Md., were threatening to consolidate despite efforts of more than 1,200 soldiers, sailors, marines and German prisoners of war.

The conflagration destroyed 16 houses in the Mayfield, Md., area observers said. Flames rose as high as 1,500 feet. Fires in other areas of Maryland were estimated by state forestry service officials to have set aflame between 5,000 and 10,000 acres.

Twenty-eight fires were reported in 10 of New Jersey's 21 counties and State Fire Warden William J. Seidel termed it "the worst day in two years." About 12,000 acres were affected.

Winds which reached 40 miles an hour fanned the flames which were battled by 100 state fire wardens and 700 fire fighters. Three major New Jersey conflagrations still were out of control late last night.

meeting was taken as an indication of the growing seriousness of stalled coal producton on the reconversion program. Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug issued a statement reporting that, up until Friday, the strike had cost the nation a loss of 31,652,000 tons of coal. Steel operations have been curtailed, and some heavy coal carrying railroads have reduced employment.

Red-Headed Bandit Dies In Gun Battle At Hoosier Factory

Indianapolis, April 20 (AP)—A red-headed gunman was killed today in a pistol battle with Rex Moonshower, official of the Hoosier Mint Co., who was critically wounded.

Moonshower told police the bandid emptied a revolver at him when he grabbed a pistol. The gunman staggered out of the entrance and fell dead on the sidewalk, two blocks from the Indiana capitol.

Police said the unidentified bandit had several rolls of cloth-covered wire over one arm.

SHORT WHEAT SUPPLIES MAY SLASH FLOUR

saving measures soon in line with United States action, while Canada and Argentina took steps to increase their food contributions to the world's hungry peoples.

The announcements by the three governments followed disclosure of the six-point program by the United States undertaken to help meet what President Truman called history's 'greatest threat of mass starvation."

In London, Prime Minister Attlee's office declared that "his majesty's government are ready to play their part" along with the United States in steps to reduce the consumption of wheat.

Canada made available an additional 5,000,000 bushels of oats and about 2,500,000 bushels of lower grade wheat for relief of the world food shortage.

Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King said also that Canada had proposed to the United States that both countries cancel commercial export permits for flour except for urgent need.

Spurred by appeals from President Truman, former President Hoover and their own president-elect, Juan D. Peron, the Argentine government set in motion nationwide machinery for boosting contributions to Europe.

Orders went out closing meat, fish, fowl and fruit markets on Sundays and a drive got under way for rationing supplies that make the Argentine menu one of the most abundant in the entire world.

Recruiter Killed In Jeep Collision Near Mt. Pleasant

Mt. Pleasant, Mich., April 20 (AP)—Two men, one of them an army recruiting sergeant, were killed this afternoon when the jeep in which they were riding collided head-on with a truck on U. S. 27, six miles southeast of here.

State Police listed the dead as Sergt. Wesley John Briggs, 24, of (R. R. 1) Merrill, recruiting sergeant in the Saginaw Army Recruiting Office, and Elton L. Kirby, 36, of (170 Moyer) Alma.

The truck driver, James Haggi, 25, of (433 Cass Ave. SE) Grand Rapids, received first aid treatment at the State Police post here and was released after questioning.

State police said preliminary investigation showed the jeep had turned out to pass another auto when it collided with the truck.

Almost one-third of the area of the United States is forest land.

Blasts Feed Blaze In Allied Chemical Philadelphia Plant

Philadelphia, April 20 (AP) — Cleaning fluid and other chemicals caused 10 explosions today as a seven-alarm fire burned the Allied Chemical and Dye Corporation's Barrett division plant.

Acrid smoke billowed 1,000 feet above northeast Philadelphia producing a spectacle watched by mid-city dwellers six miles away. It drifted across the Delaware River to New Jersey, blackening the skies.

One explosion blew off the roof of the building in which the fire originated and torch of flame shot up to a height of 50 feet.

Another burst of flame skipped 40 feet to ignite a second building in which chemicals were stored. Firemen were able to halt the spread of the blaze as the wind shifted to their advantage.

Superintendent of Police Guy Parsons ordered 75 homes vacated as buildings in the neighborhood were shaken by the explosions.

At least six persons suffered injury, but none required use of the five ambulances which stood by.

Maine Ex-Governor Chosen As German Civilian Director

Washington, April 20 (AP) — Sumner Sewall, 46, twice governor of Maine and a veteran of the First World War, has been selected for ultimate assignment as the first civilian director of military government in one of the three German states in the American zone.

At the request of Secretary of War Patterson, the war department said today, Sewall has been granted leave as president of the American Overseas Airlines, Inc., and is expected to start for Germany within the next two weeks.

He will go on duty at first as an assistant to Lieut. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, deputy military governor of Germany, in charge of public health and welfare activities.

Traffic Accidents In State Increased 15.5% During 1945

Michigan state police attribute the 15.5 per cent increase in traffic accidents in the state last year, over 1944, to the heavy increase in motor vehicle mileage during the last eight months of the year.

There were 83,160 traffic accidents in Michigan last year in comparison to 72,013 reported during 1944.

Of the total 1,011 were fatal accidents which resulted in 1,142 deaths; 19,302 were non-fatal accidents which resulted in 27,755 injuries and 62,847 were property damage accidents. Fatal accidents increased 10.1 per cent over 1944 and total traffic deaths increased 116 or 11.3 per cent. Injury accidents increased 2,458 or 14.6 per cent and property damage accidents increased 8,606 or 15.9 per cent.

Fatalities during the first four months of 1945 showed a reduction of 99 or 25.2 per cent compared with the same period in the previous year and on the same comparative basis traffic deaths increased 207 or 32.3 per cent during the last eight months of the year.

Statewide motor vehicle mileage was down 2.9 per cent during the first four months of 1945 but was up 21.6 per cent during the last eight months of the year.

More than half, 614 or 54 per cent, of all traffic deaths in 1945 occurred in rural areas; 46 per cent occurred in incorporated cities or villages. This was the same percentage distribution of rural-urban deaths as occurred in 1944. In the prewar years of 1940 and 1941, two-thirds of all traffic deaths occurred in rural areas.

Nine Lower Michigan counties accounted for 608 or 53 per cent of all traffic deaths in the state during 1945 but these counties have 60 per cent of the state's population and registered motor vehicles.

Charlevoix, Keweenaw, Leelanau, Manistee, Otsego, Presque Isle and Schoolcraft counties reported no deaths during the year and two of these, Otsego and Presque Isle, had no traffic death in 1944.

Four types of accidents accounted for 89 per cent of the total fatality increase: these included deaths resulting from collisions with pedestrians, deaths resulting from collision of two or more vehicles, deaths resulting from railroad train-motor vehicle collisions and deaths caused by vehicles running off roadways.

Six out of ten drivers involved in fatal accidents were reported to be violating the law at the time of the accident. Violations most frequently reported in fatal accidents included: driving at speeds too fast for conditions, driving on wrong side of road, failure to yield right-of-way to vehicle or pedestrian, disregard of stop signals or signs, improper turns, improper passing and driving under the influence of alcohol.

Michigan's Easter weekend observance had claimed at least seven lives Saturday night, six of the victims dying in auto accidents while the seventh perished in a fire.

Sgt. Wesley John Briggs, 24, of Merrill, a soldier attached to the Saginaw recruiting office, and his companion, Elton L. Kirby, 36, of Alma were killed instantly Saturday afternoon when the jeep in which they were riding collided head-on with a truck.

State police said the accident, on US-27 about six miles southeast of Mt. Pleasant, occurred when the jeep turned out to pass another vehicle and collided with the truck.

James Haggi, 25, of Grand Rapids, truck driver, was treated at Mt. Pleasant state police post for minor injuries and was released after questioning. Police said no charge had been placed against him. They said Kirby was a discharged veteran.

An auto-truck collision near Midland took the lives of another ex-serviceman and a girl early Saturday.

Leroy V. Miller, 21, of Midland and Miss Beatrice Gene Haggerty, 18, of Coleman, were injured fatally when the auto in which they were riding collided with the rear of a truck on US-10, four miles northwest of Midland.

Miss Haggerty, who was to have been married June 1 to Harold Westendorf, 21, of Midland, driver of the auto, was killed instantly.

Westendorf, Miss Edith Dice, 15, and Lawrence Maidens, 21, all of Midland, suffered minor injuries.

Police said the Midland auto struck the rear of the truck, which was operated by Roy McCrandall, 19, of Flint. Ray McCrandall, Flint contractor and father of the driver, and Jamees Bellinger, of Flint, passengers in the truck, were uninjured.

At Detroit, David Hoot, four, was killed Saturday when a city rubbish truck backed over him in an alley at the rear of his home.

William Abraham, 24, of Ann Arbor, succumbed at Ypsilanti Friday night to injuries received in an auto accident Sunday.

Harvey McAllister, two, was burned fatally and his brother and sister, Ronald, one, and Reb. three, were injured when fire damaged their trailer home near Six Lakes on Friday.

HOTELS OBJECT TO BAR CLOSING

Council's Action Unwarranted, Claims Rushton

Two of the three leading Escanaba hotels will close May 1 to May 12 as a result of the action of the Escanaba city council in withholding renewal of liquor licenses for those establishments during that period, it was announced yesterday by Herbert J Rushton, attorney for the Ludington and Delta hotels. James Frost, attorney for the Glavin estate, owners of the Sherman hotel, said yesterday that there has been no decision yet to close the Sherman hotel during the period.

The sale of the Sherman hotel to Ray Perring, tentatively scheduled to become effective on May 1, has not been entirely completed because of delay in clearing abstract for the property, it was indicated yesterday, and it still is uncertain that the property will change hands on that date. Mr. Perring was out of town yesterday and could not be reached for a statement.

Rushton declared yesterday that the action of the city council in withholding renewal of the hotel liquor licenses for 10 days constitutes an injustice to the hotels involved, inasmuch as they have already been subjected to 10 day suspension of their bar service by the state liquor control commission for the sale of liquor to minors. The attorney further stated that the offense to which the hotels pleaded guilty was not a wilful violation of the liquor commission regulations but resulted from acceptance by the hotel bar clerks of spurious credentials presented by the minors

Col. Evans Will Go To Marquette

Marquette — Col. Floyd E. Evans, director of the Michigan department of aeronautics, will come to Marquette next Monday, arriving at the county airfield late in the afternoon by plane, and will confer Tuesday at the Hotel Northland with the county airport committee relative to plans for development of the Sands port.

Members of the county committee are T. J. Nicholas, chairman of the county board of supervisors; William A. Gray, road commission superintendent, and Frank L. Denny, county accountant and purchasing agent.

Construction work had been scheduled to start at the Sands airport July 1, Gray informed the county supervisors at last week's meeting, through use of state appropriations matched with county funds and subsequent matching of the total by Federal monies. Approximately $86,000 thus would have been available.

A Short Pull

PERHAPS never before in American history have the people of the United States had the opportunity to do so much for humanity with the least sacrifice as the present world hunger crisis entails.

Millions of people in Europe alone, plus many more millions in Asia, will die of starvation in the next few months unless the more fortunate nations provide the minimum standard of food for the hunger-ridden populations. Because the greatest source of food is available in the United States, it naturally follows that the American people have the opporunity and the responsibility of making the greatest contribution to hunger relief.

Fortunately, the problem is not one of long duration, even though it is one of extreme crisis at present. The next grain harvests of the world will alleviate the food problem but the famine areas cannot wait that long.

Americans are not being asked to go hungry to feed the starving millions abroad. We are asked only to reduce our consumption of grains and fats for a period of four months so that these life-saving foods can be shipped abroad in greater quantities to meet the current emergency. Much of this savings can be effected merely by eliminating the tremendous waste. Other savings can be made by substituting other types of food for grains and fats.

In coming to the assistance of the starving people abroad now, we are not only performing our humanitarian duty, but we are also strengthening the cause of world peace.

The Die-Hard

WHENEVER he pops up in the news, which is frequently, James C. Petrillo has a way of inviting comment. The invitation is hard to resist, for the boss of America's organized musicians is a colorful and intriguing personality, whatever other opinion one may have of him.

Perhaps Mr. Petrillo's most fascinating characteristic is his die-hard opposition to the Industrial Revolution. The rest of the world gave in long ago, but Mr. Petrillo fights on. So far he has done pretty well in defiance of such authority as has been put in his way. But we doubt that he can win in the long run, for reasons that must be as clear to him as to anyone else.

Mr. Petrillo obviously feels that anyone who joins his union is entitled to a job. That is a praiseworthy sentiment, but you just can't run the art of music today on a piecework basis. Music is a highly competitive profession. The buying public is discriminating. It wants the best it can get for its money, which means a brisk demand for the best sololists and orchestras and few bidders for the inferior performers.

Formerly Mr. Petrillo tried to force all sorts of musicians, good and bad, upon the public. But now he is asking larger studio orchestras in the movie industry, with a $200-a-week scale for 10 hours' work, because, as one of his union officials put it, the 2000 or so musicians in Hollywood studios have "displaced 100,000 musicians throughout the world."

That is sad, but it is inevitable. And Mr. Petrillo's efforts to get a 100 per cent pay increase for the 2000 who have displaced the 100,000 won't remedy the situation.

UN Tackles Press Freedom

REPORTS that the United Nations will tackle the problem of world freedom of press is encouraging to American newspapers, which have led a ceaseless campaign against censorship of news and restrictions of freedom not only in this country but in all parts of the world.

The fight for press freedom here and abroad is a campaign for truth, without which there can never be world peace based upon international understanding. It is highly significant that the nations of the world that do not have press freedom are the very nations whose actions have invited international doubt and suspicions. In fact, wars of aggression have always been launched by nations that shackled truth by press censorship.

The United Nations can make its most direct contribution to the cause of world peace by working for the unshackling of the press all over the world. It will not be a simple task because there are powerful factors vigorously opposed to press freedom, interests who prevent press freedom in their own countries and resent it elsewhere. Unfortunately, the heads of governments are included in these groups.

Safe Accusation

POLAND would seem to be safe in her accusation that Nazi scientists are at work in Spain on experiments in atomic fission. First of all, it is most unlikely that these experiments would be in the actual manufacture of atomic bombs. Knowing the poverty and lack of industrial development in Spain, and knowing also something of the vast physical outlay and interlocking contributions of our whole vast industry that went into the first bomb's creation, it is scarcely possible to assume that the Nazis have put up another Oak Ridge development in Spain.

So it may be believed that the accusation referred to experiments at the laboratory stage. And the accusation has been broadcast so widely, and with so little prospect of immediate action to follow, that much if not all evidence might be removed.

Spain has invited the United Nations to inspect the country and trace these accusations. If nothing is found, it would be easy for the Polish government to make the obvious charge that machinery was hidden or destroyed and that the scientists were hiding or in flight. And the original accusation would not be disapproved.

That does not mean that Poland is accusing falsely. But it does suggest that the accusation was made with too much fanfare. With or without it, however, there are still legitimate reasons for the United Nations to heed Poland's original request for inquiry and action regarding the Franco regime.

Immunization Clinics

THE resumption of immunization clinics by the Delta county health department will be welcomed here. Diphtheria and smallpox are two dressed diseases which can be efectively wiped out through the immunization program.

It is particularly desirable to resume the monthly clinics now because of the increase in the incidence of diphtheria. The immunization clinics, which start next Friday, will be held at the health center the last Friday of each month. Every mother has an obligation to her children to protect them against the two diseases that have been the scourge of previous generations.

FOREST THREAT
(Milwaukee Journal)

Now the New England Forestry Foundation warns that "black market operations in logs and lumber" are devastating not only the forests of New England, but are destroying the future forest economy of the nation.

Illegal operators in logs and lumber are offering such high prices for trees, according to the foundation, that owners are razing the woodlands—stripping them of practically every vestige of growth. The foundation says: "The fly by night, woodpecker sawmills in isolation sections are conducting the dance of death to millions of young trees that should not be cut."

Whether they are illegal or not, and whether they are used in "black market" or legitimate operations, small portable or stationary sawmills have stripped away all too many of Wisconsin's forests, too.

The larger operators, more especially the paper mill operators, are getting away from "clear cutting," which includes the harvesting of undersized trees. To be sure, pulpwood is made of comparatively small trees, but the paper mill people realize that if they want to stay in business where they are they must retain trees within comparatively easy reach. So many of them either are using one of the several methods of selective cutting or else are planting trees as fast as they cut them.

Many of the small mill operators will, and perhaps they feel they must, cut right down to the saplings—anything that will make a couple of strips of hardwood flooring or even matchsticks.

If all this goes on very long, we shall have the depletion of which the New England foundation speaks. Evidently we need cutting regulations, administered by the federal forest service.

It's strange how many people forget that they were taught, when babies, to stand up for themselves.

Everybody surely remembers when winters used to mean red flannels. This past one we escaped without a scratch.

QUESTION SESSION

Alhambra: My pet peeve is that "lug" in "luxury." It just doesn't belong there.—E. B.

Answer: Right. The first syllable should be like "luck." The second syllable has the short "oo" sound as in "foot, book." Say: LUCK-shoo-ree.

Detroit: On a recent Bob Hope broadcast, Betty Hutton, in boasting of her high social standing, said, "Why, I'm right up there among the hoi polloi." Didn't Bob's gag writers cause her to say the opposite to the meaning intended?—M. L. C.

Answer: Yes. The Greek term hoi polloi designates the masses, the common people. Its literal meaning is "the many"; hence, "the hoi polloi" means "the the many." It's redundant.

Omaha: Can you make clear the terms "obverse" and "reverse" in designating the two sides of a coin?—C. S. S.

Answer: Obverse actually means "facing the observer." But in speaking of coins, the obserse is the side called the "face"; that is, the side on which the "head" appears. The "tail" side is spoken of as the reverse.

Erie: What is meant by a "10d nail"?—J. P. H.

Answer: The symbol "10d" means "ten-penny." Originally, "10d" or "tenpenny" meant "ten nails (of a certain size) for one penny." Nowadays, however, a tenpenny nail is a nail three inches long. The "d", meaning "penny" is the abreviation for "denarius," an ancient Roman coin which is called "penny" in the New Testament, Matt. 22, 19: "Shew me the tribute money. And they brought unto him a penny."

Oneida: I have been told that I should pronounce "desicate" as "dee-SIK-ate." Am I right in refusing to do so?—M. E. W.

Answer: Right as rain. That pronunciation is occasionally heard in Britain, but it has no sanction in American usage. Say: DESS-i-kate.

C. H. W., of Huntersville, N. C., sends a clipping containing this beautiful example of the Pied Typer's handiwork: "Two-headed, gray-eyed Jimmy stood in front of the Travelers' Aid booth."

Just out. My new pamphlet takes the headaches out of those two confusing word pairs. LIE-LAY and SIT-SET. Simple and nontechnical. Get your free copy at once by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Frank Colby, in care of this paper. Ask for LIE-LAY pamphlet.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—The patient, quiet-spoken director of the veterans' administration, Gen. Omar N. Bradley, has a big, rather old-fashioned office on the top floor of the crowded VA building. There is no fuss and feathers about Gen. Bradley, and little ceremony.

Childs

On his simply cut battle jacket, he wears none of the multi-colored ribbons that he is entitled to wear. He recognized that that phase is definitely over.

This is a new and bigger battle he is engaged in, this struggle to straighten out the bureaucratic tangle involved in the business of some 15,000,000 war veterans, nearly 12,000,000 out of World War II. No decorations go with this job. So far it has been mostly brickbats and headaches.

—BRADLEY IS 53—

With scarcely a pause in between, Gen. Bradley laid down the command of his army last July and took on this new assignment. He has been going hard ever since. By train and by plane, he has covered thousands of miles, working with the VA's regional directors, inspecting veterans' facilities.

Bradley is 53 years old; he looks older than that and it is small wonder, considering what he has been through in the past five years. But today he can take quiet satisfaction in the beginnings of progress in the VA.

One concrete achievement is the introduction of new methods of medical care. The objective has been to bring first-rate medical men into veterans' hospitals on a part-time basis. In the past, a deadly institutionalism kept the medical service in these hospitals at an inferior level.

Now, young doctors with the latest training are coming in to be resident physicians for a fixed period of service; a training center is being opened to coach attendants who will have charge of the thousands of mental cases; leading medical men throughout the country are responding to Gen. Bradley's appeal.

—SERVICE HIS WATCHWORD—

One word—service—characterizes Bradley's career. He is unspectacular, plain, without any of the fireworks of a Patton. But it's entirely possible that, in the final verdict of history, he will stand higher than many a spectacular general.

Just published is a book that tells more than anyone so far has told of Bradley's wartime struggles with the British, beginning in the early fall of 1944 and going through the Battle of the Bulge. The book is "Top Secret." Written by Ralph Ingersoll, who was a member of Bradley's plans staff through most of the period after D.-Day.

Bradley believed that the Germans should be given no respite. In September of '44, he was in favor of driving on through, convinced that victory was in sight if only the Germans were not given an opportunity to strengthen their shattered forces and form new lines.

His adversary was Field Marshal Sir Bernard Montgomery. In almost every respect, Monty was the exact opposite of Bradley. He was showy, vain to the point of egocentricity, adroit at using the press conference and the dramatic pronouncement to gain his way.

The British, through Montgomery, wanted to gain command over all American forces, according to Ingersoll. They wanted to send the main drive into Germany by the northwest route through Bremen and Hamburg.

Obscured by censorship at the time, this struggle was in a sense part of an earlier controversy. The British had fought unceasingly, in inter-Allied conferences, to channel the main drive through Italy and the Balkans. They had steadfastly resisted the cross-channel invasion of France.

For many years memoranda, memoirs, documents will shed light on this behind-scenes controversy. But the picture that Ingersoll gives of Bradley—doggedly, patiently driving on in spite of the quarrels of the politicians and the political generals—is likely to stand up.

In just the same way, Bradley is going about his present job. He has already had one encounter with John Stelle of the American Legion, who made charges that seemed to have a political motivation. Bradley marshalled his facts and, when the smoke cleared away, he was in possession of the field.

No one knows better than Bradley the obstacles still ahead. The progress thus far is small, measured against the enormity of the task there are still rooms chok full of unsorted mail. But the man who did so much to carve out victory in war is showing the way to another kind of victory in peace.

VISIT TO FAYETTE—Yesterday's column described J. W. Wells State Park and the development that has made it one of the finest in the Upper Peninsula. Today we will visit Fayette in company with Glenn Gregg, Marquette, head of the parks division for the conservation department in the Upper Peninsula, and Roy Overpack, secretary of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce.

Dunathan

Fayette is located in Fairbanks township on the Garden peninsula in Delta county, about 20 miles south of Garden Junction on US-2. The Fayette harbor area has been propsed by the Delta county board of supervisors as a site for a state park.

Glenn Gregg had visited Fayette several years ago, was here the other day on an official inspection of the site. Mr. Overpack, who came to Escanaba from Manistee last year, had never before been to Fayette.

* * *

THE GARDEN RIDE—Wheeling down the county road toward Fayette we passed Kates Bay, Van's Harbor, Garden Bay, Puffy Bay. Off to the right, although we could not see them from the highway, were Gouley's Harbor, South River Bay and other indentations along the rocky shore.

Here and there farmers were plowing in their fields, and seagulls followed the furrows—like robins looking for worms. Cedar trees and juniper decorated the hillsides, and butternut trees raised gnarled limbs among the hardwoods. Perhaps because of the milder climate on the peninsula butternut trees grow more thickly there than anywhere else in the county.

Arriving at Fayette the car circled down and around the limestone bluff to the landlocked little bay known to yachtsmen as Snail Shell Harbor. The old stone furnaces where iron ore was smelted up to 1891 stood monumentally aloof, reminder of the days when Fayette was a busy port and a community of several hundred persons.

* * *

MEETING THE OWNER—Gregg wanted to see Fred Van Remortel, owner of the Fayette location, and we drove to the large white house(once the residence of the furnace company superintendent) to see him.

Mrs. Van Remortel came to the door, for her husband was shaving. She invited us in, with Trixie, the Van Remortel's rat terrier, voicing a noisy welcome. We waited in the living room whose windows overlook the harbor until Fred finished his shaving, slipped into a shirt and coat (we think a tie was added for our benefit) and joined us.

Fred is hale and hearty at the age of 70, likes his cigars and an occasional 'suds" at the Garden tavern, attributes his good health to living at Fayette for the past 30 years. He was recently retired as Fayette postmaster because of his age—but he walked the legs off the rest of us showing off his beloved Fayette.

* * *

AS HE SEES IT—Leaving the house (Mrs. Van Remortel's flowers are in bloom around the door) we drove to the bluff above the harbor for the view and to take a look at a large cleared area which was once the location a horse race track back in the days when Fayette was a rival of Escanaba. The circle of the track—it looked to be a half-mile around—is still visible under the covering of sod.

Fred led us on a walk along the bluff south of Fayette, where there were many gardens in the old days. He showed us a rotting ladder leaning against the bluff up which Fayette residents once climbed to reach their gardens.

Now the area was grown up in clumps of cedars, with occasional hardwoods where hepatica was in bloom. The view from the bluff was magnificent. To the south was Sand Bay, and beyond that the bold outline of Burnt Bluff. To the west was Fayette harbor, and to the north Fayette bluff and Snake Island.

* * *

ST. PETER'S CHURCH—A short distance south of the harbor on a hill above the road is St. Peter's church, glistening in white paint.

"We redecorated a short time ago, and I want you to see it," said Fred, opening the door. "Oh, it's never locked," he added.

It is a small church. Best view of the interior is from the choir loft where stands the little old organ, and where the bell rope comes down from the steeple. The interior was bright with sunlight and the windows looked out on the cedars and the sparkling water of the day.

* * *

AS A PARK SITE—Gregg all the while was considering the Fayette location from the viewpoint of state park possibilities. He was favorably impressed and said so, adding that he would recommend the site to his superiors.

The large field that once was a race track would make a good place for a camp ground, he said. The harbor area could be developed as a picnic-fishing-boating center and many of the old furnace buildings might be utilized. The sand beach area to the south would be a place for swimming, for games and other "daytime" recreations, Gregg said.

Altogether the day was wholly satisfactory and ended on a note of promise for those who are seeking to have Fayette become a state park.

INTO THE PAST

10 Years Ago—1936

New York — Howard Hughes, the Hollywood movie producer, established his third national air speed record today when he set his long wing monoplane down at Floyd Bennett field just four hours 21 minutes and 32 seconds after he took off from Miami, Fla.

An occasion of interest to the many friends of the family will be the observance today of the eighty-fifth birhtday anniversary of Mrs. Bertha Clarke, 529 South 16th street. Mrs. Clarke has been a resident of Escanaba for nearly half a century.

At a wedding of attractive appointments which took place here Saturday morning, Miss Marie Geyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Geyer, of 327 South 15th street, became the bride of Edward Berrigan, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Berrigan, 714 Bay street.

Michael Carmody, 88, a survivor of the historic Tornado, Wis., fire of 1871, died at the home of his daughter, Mr. Dan Gallagher, 317 South 17th street, at 5:30 o'clock last evening of pneumonia. He had been ill for two weeks.

20 Years Ago—1926

The temperature soared to 81 above here yesterday afternoon, setting a new high record for this early in the season and tying the all-time April record established April 28, 1915, according to the official weather bureau report.

Escanaba is not represented at the Michigan Prohibition convention which will open in Detroit today, continuing through Monday. Delegates from other cities of the peninsula will be in atendance.

Armed with four search warrants, local conservation officers started out yesterday for Seney to follow up complaints of illegal fur trading, mainly the trapping of bear.

Sterling Pudvin, age 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Pudvin, passed away Wednesday morning at nine o'clock at the Powers sanitorium where he had been a patient for the past nine weeks.

G. I.—VETERANS SERVICE

Q. I was discharged and have reenlisted for one year. Will it be possible for me to go to school near my home when I am discharged?

A. Under the G. I. Bill, you may enroll in an approved educational or training institution of your own choosing.

Q. Are medal of honor winners entitled to any renumeration after they reach the age of 65?

A. Yes; they are entitled to a statutory award of $10 per month payable beginning at the age of 65.

OF GENERAL INTEREST

Q. What is meant by Hobson's Choice?

A. Tobias Hobson was the first man in England to hire out hack horses. He would never break his rule of letting the horses in strict rotation Persons wanting a horse must take the one whose turn it was to go, or they could have none. Thus "Hobson's Choice" became a byword.

Q. From a chemical viewpoint are fabrics, wood and glass, solids or liquids?

A. According to present views there is no chemical distinction between a liquid and a solid. The difference is caused by the arrangement in a solid of the atoms and molecules according to a relatively fixed crystal structure, whereas in a liquid the atoms or molecules have no definite spatial arrangement and can usually change positions with respect to each other. Fabrics and wood, and perhaps glass as well, belong in the class of mesocrystalline substances, possessing some, but not all, of the properties of crystalline arrangements. Opinions of experts differ, therefore, as to whether they should be classified as solids or as exceedingly stiff liquids. Glass is usually considered a super-cooled liquid.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—For some time a hot behind-the-scenes row has been raging over the person of charming, vivacious Lew Douglas, who has held more jobs in government than anyone else in Washington, and who is now up for appointment as head of the New World Bank.

Pearson

This bank, to be created under Bretton Woods, will be about the most powerful economic force in the world. It will have the power to develop or retard countries. It can make or prevent revolutions. It will become, for smaller countries, what the small-town banker is to the corner grocer.

The man so far slated for this important job the unique distinction of being the only man who could outcharm Franklin Roosevelt. Douglas rowed with Roosevelt, resigned as his director of the budget, organized the "Independent Democrats," did his best to defeat Roosevelt in 1940. Yet he was always able to whis way back into FDR's good graces.

Friends said Douglas fascinated the late President because he was the only man who had a better technique as a charmer.

Once, during the 1943 Churchill-Roosevelt conference in Quebec, FDR asked Douglas to fly up from Washington and serve as special charm disseminator. General Marshall and Admiral King were rowing with Sir Allan Brooke and the British General Staff over far eastern strategy, so Douglas was asked to pour oil on the troubled waters. He did.

—CANADIAN BACKGROUND—

A lot of people have had their doubts as to whether Lew is a Republican or a Democrat, and some friends chide him as to whether his family is American or Canadian. He has operated successfully in both parties and both countries.

Lew's grandfather was a Scottish professor of geology who migrated to Arizona via Canada and established the beginnings of the Phelps-Dodge copper millions. Douglas, Arizona, is named for the family.

Lew's grandfather kept his Canadian citizenship, even sending his wife back to Canada whenever a child was expected, so that it, too, would be Canadian. Of his two sons, Walter Douglas kept his Canadian citizenship to the end, but Lew's father, Jimmy Douglas, didn't.

He became an American citizen after he fell in love with Josephine Williams, daughter of a crusty Arizona miner, "Don Looey" Williams, who would not let his child be married to a "foreigner." Later, however, Lew's father became such a rabid Roosevelt-hater that he left Arizona and went back to Canada to spend the rest of his life as far from the new deal as possible.

Some years before this, however, Lew Douglas had come to Congress in 1927 as a Democrat at the sprightly age of 33, when Congress was packed with dignified Republicans of the conservative Coolidge era. He remained six years, got to know Franklin Roosevelt as governor of New York, campaigned for him, and resigned from Congress to become FDR's director of the budget.

—ROWS WITH ROOSEVELT—

Less than a year later, the two were in vigorous disagreement, chiefly over the public works and spending programs. FDR believed the government had to spend to win back employment. Douglas was for a balanced budget. Finally he resigned.

Lew then went up to Canada for a while as vice chancellor of McGill university, later became head of the giant Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, did his best to elect Wendell Willkie, was privately though briefly mentioned by J. P. Morgan partners as Republican candidate for president, and then, with the war on, he and Roosevelt suddenly kissed and made up.

Douglas became head of the war shipping administration, where he cut red tape, rowed with the army, and did a reasonably good job.

At one time, Roosevelt nearly appointed Douglas to be under secretary of state. This was when FDR made the worst foreign relations mistake of his many long years by ousting his best state department executive, Sumner Welles. However, Douglas was considered too close to Wall Street, and Ed Stettinius got the job instead.

Later, Lew turned up mysteriously in Germany, where he served as a war department adviser and where he persuaded his brother-in-law, assistant secretary of war McCloy, to hold up Truman's "tough peace" directive 1067 for Germany.

Douglas was one of those who believed that Germany should be built up as a buffer state against Russia; and that was where he incurred the opposition of Henry Morgenthau. Henry has now written to Truman warning that Douglas, as head of the world bank, would be a tragic mistake.

Despite the fact that everyone likes Lew personally, there is violent opposition to his policies and his off-again-on-again method of ambling through life.

However, Secretary of the Treasury Vinson is for him, so are the British, and, what with strong Wall Street support, he will probably get the job.

FAVOR HEALTH UNIT MERGER

Delta-Menominee Health District Plan Gets Recommendation

Consolidation of the Delta and Menominee county health department under a single administrative director on a year's trial basis is to be recommended to their respective county boards by special committees from the Delta and Menominee boards of supervisors.

This decision was arrived at by the special committees in a recent meeting held at Powers. The Delta county delegation, members of the board's health committee, were Supervisors Harry Greene, chairman, Fred Schram and Walter Manntie. Menominee county delegation was composed of Supervisors John Fazer, W. H. Zeratsky, E. J. Eagen and Albert Larsen.

The proposed consolidation plan was outlined at the meeting by Dr. Russell Pleune of Escanaba, deputy commissioner of the state health department in the Upper Peninsula.

Cost of the consolidated program is estimated at $49,650, of which the state and federal governments will pay about $29,000. Menominee county's share of the balance would be $10,947. Under the present arrangement Menominee is paying $8,465, of which the county contributes $6,665 and the Menominee board of education $1,800.

One Director

The plan proposes that a health director be employed at a starting salary of $6,600 and he would divide his time between Menominee and Delta counties. Six nurses would be employed, three in each county, and they would be under supervision of a nurse supervisor who would be paid $2,700 a year and would likewise divide her time between the two counties. An engineer-sanitarian would be employed at a starting salary of $2,400 a year and he would work between the two counties and supervise the work and duties of the two county sanitarians.

Each county would also have a children's dental clinic similar to those previously operated under the Couzens Fund. Chief offices for the consolidated department would be in Escanaba, but the Menominee office would be maintained as headquarters for the Menominee unit.

Menominee and Delta counties both operate their own health units at present. In Menominee county the director is Dr. John T. Kaye, who is serving on a part-time basis. The county has two nurses, a Menominee city school nurse and a county nurse, one less than is proposed under the consolidation plan. It has its own sanitarian and two women clerks are employed in the office. It was stated the consolidation plan could probably dispense with the services of one clerk.

Delta Setup

Delta county also has a part-time director, the work being currently handled by Dr. Pleune. It has three nurses, the same number it would get under the consolidation, a sanitarian and one office clerk.

In explaining the consolidation plan Dr. Pleune stressed that health authorities believed it was impracitcal for counties of less than 50,000 population to attempt to operate their own health units because under the 15-mill tax limitation revenues are not sufficient.

He pointed out that a county so limited by tax revenues could not obtain as well qualified a director. In both Menominee and Delta the limit that could be paid a director would be about $5,000. He also emphasized that sanitation was as important a matter as health promotion and said it was proposed to engage an engineer-sanitarian to supervise work of the sanitarian in each of the counties.

This latter arrangement didn't impress conferees favorably and was opposed particularly by Sup. Zeratsky, of the Menominee delegation. Zeratsky said he didn't believe such a setup would prove practical. Members of the Delta delegation also doubted its feasibility.

Expect Aid Increase

Dr. Pleune told the conference there was a growing belief that the next state legislature would substantially increase the appropriation for state aid for maintenance of county health units. At present the state appropriates $185,000 a year and health authorities will ask for an appropriation of $1,500,000 at the 1947 session. This would be pro-rated to counties on a per capita basis and would substantially increase the state participation in both Delta and Menominee county.

Assuming the state would pass such an appropriation, neither Menominee nor Delta would share in it until July 1, 1947, which is the start of the fiscal year following the legislative session. Until then the consolidation would result in a $2,000 loss in state aid, as under the separate county setup. Delta and Menominee each get 13,500 a year from the state, but under the consolidation the state aid would be $5,000.

Financial Setup

Dr. Pleune broke down the financial setup for the consolidated department as follows:

Health officer, $6,600; dental clinic ($4,000 for each county), $8,000; supervising nurse, $2,700; six nurses (3 at $2,220 and 3 at $2,100), $12,960; one engineer-sanitarian (to supervise both counties), $2,400; two county sanitarians (one in Delta at $2,400; one in Menominee at $2,260), $4,660; three office clerks (one in Delta at $1,260, one in Menominee at $1,260 and another at $960), $3,160; travel expense, for director, $650; for supervising nurse and engineer, $550; for nurses, $500; dental clinic assistants (one in Delta at $1,000; one in Menominee at $720), $1,720; and office supplies and departmental expense (for two offices), $2,495.

Plan Fireproof Structure With Four Apartments

Munising—O. A. Shampine has been granted a permit from the city and will start construction of a fire proof tile or brick building as soon as the necessary approval is received from Detroit.

Mr. Shampine was granted the permit on the grounds that four new dwelling apartments be made on the second floor. These apartments will be held open for the necessary 30 days to be rented by ex-servicemen and their families.

The building will replace the 50 x 30 foot frame structure now facing Lynn street adjacent to the Shampine grocery store. Material taken from the present buildings will be sold for the purpose of building a home or apartments.

Space for three stores will be provided in the new fire proof structure. The new building will be 50 x 71 feet, two stories high with basement. Adequate stairways will lead from the upstairs apartments. Tonella and Rupp will occupy the corner building as well as their present location, with archways being cut between the two stores, making it into one. The Shampine grocery, now facing Superior street, will be moved to the store facing Lynn street, and probably be placed in the store space nearest the alley.

Although there are only 92 chemical elements in nature, scientific experiments have produced almost 500 unstable (radioactive) types in the laboratory.

SHERIFF POST LURES TWELVE

Alger County Aspirants Circulating Nomination Petitions Now

Munising—Five more petitions were taken out at the county courthouse in the past week by applicants seeking the sheriff position for Alger county, making a total of 12 who will be seeking the nomination.

Mrs. Argene Pelletier, who has been the sheriff in Alger county since the death of her husband in 1944 shortly after he was elected, announced Saturday afternoon that she will be a candidate for re-election. Several weeks ago Mrs. Pelletier announced that she would not be a candidate but Saturday she took out her petition and will seek the nomination with the following Democrats in the June 18 primary election. William Miller, Russell Boogren, Francis I ncoln, Reynold Miron, Peter Arsenault and George Schilling.

The Republican party in Alger county has five who have taken petitions: George Dougherty, James Knox, Hector (Buck) Morin, Robert Runsat, and Joseph L. Hase. One has dropped out of the race, Debert Smith.

With the surprise announcement made by Henry Jacobson Friday evening that he would not be a candidate for re-election after 12 years in the office of county clerk and register of deeds that position was thrown wide open for applicants. Two have already taken out petitions, Republican Donlin J. Leiphart and Democrat John Carr, who has been chief clerk of the Alger county draft board since its innovation but for two years spent in the army.

Up to Saturday it appeared that Mrs. Virginia Alexander, county treasurer, would have no opposition from the Democratic party in the primary election. No Republicans as yet have taken out petitions for the Alger county treasurer's office.

There will be a contest in the Alger county prosecutor office with the announcement made this week by George S. Baldwin that he would again seek the office held by incumbent Richard E. O'Brien who will again seek re-election.

Two Democrats have announced that they will seek the coroners office, Joseph Lambert and Joseph Brisson, Sr., of Limestone.

Tuesday, April 23, at 3 p. m., is the filing deadline for petitions and by the list seeking the county offices it will be a lively primary election.

Girl Scouts "Cookout" At Pioneer Trail On Monday

More than one hundred Gladstone Girl Scouts are expecting a good time Monday at Pioneer Trail park when an all-city Girl Scout "cookout" will be held.

Every girl who is active in the out-of-doors knows that one of the first things she gets is an appetite. An outdoor girl who is skillful in building a fire quickly and in producing a good meal is bound to help others as well as herself have a good time.

The "cookout" was planned by the junior planning committee under the direction of Helen Masterson, program chairman, and Mrs. E. A. D'Amour, president of the local council.

The group will leave Gladstone high school at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning and return in the evening at 7:30.

The girls have planned a morning of camp skills and crafts. After lunch there will be a short dramatic program during which each troop will present a five-minute stunt for the entertainment of the other Scouts. A baseball tournament which is to follow is creating a lot of good natured rivalry. Two leagues have been formed with the troops of Mmes. LaFave, Bedard, Ivory and Miss Mary Creten forming League I and troops of Mmes. Venne, Hult, Lewis and Miss Hilda Apelgren, League II. Color is being added by giving the teams names and practicing yells.

After the busy afternoon the Scouts will partake of a 'pocket stew' which they will prepare themselves. Then with chores done the girls will gather around the campfire and sing until time to leave.

This is the first all-city "cookout" arranged by the Girl Scouts.

Kipling Gas Terminal Plans Two New Tanks

Plans for enlargement or expansion of the bulk gasoline terminal of the Thiesen-Clemens company at Kipling are announced by J. J. Poffenberg, plant manager.

Two new storage tanks, one for gasoline, the other for fuel oil, are to be added. The gasoline tank is to be of 25,000 barrel or 1,100,000 gallon capacity while size of the fuel oil tank has not yet been definitely set. It will, however, be at least 25,000 barrel capacity and may go as high as 55,000 capacity.

Dikes for the tanks are now being prepared and steel for the gasoline tank, which has been fabricated in Chicago, will arrive here Wednesday.

Erection will be by the Chicago Bridge and Iron Works, which constructed the other tanks at Kipling, and the tank should be completed in 30 days.

The fuel oil tank will not be erected before August or September.

The company is also putting in a new "X"ing plant. This includes a 10,000 gallon storage tank where the "X" content is kept.

The four tanks at the Kipling terminal at present have a total capacity of 3,500,000 gallons and when the new tank is completed the total storage will be 4,600,000 gallons.

If the fuel oil tank is the 25,000 barrel size the total storage of the terminal, both gasoline and oil, will be 5,700,000 gallons and if the 55,000 barrel size is selected the plant will have a total capacity of close to 7,000,000 gallons.

Off The Chest ...

BY JAY ARRELL

Easter, as a subject for discussion is one so full of meaning that it would be hard to find any phase of it that has not been thoroughly elaborated upon. Most Christian churches stress it as the most important date on their calendar. Church services are invariably at their best on this grand occasion. At no other time of the year—not even Christmas—is church music more heavenly and certainly no other Scriptural text can compare with the one which tells how Christ rose from the dead.

Lowell

Yet, for some reason which we have never been able to figure out, the memories of Easters of the past do not seem to have that quality of tenderness which characterizes memories of Christmas, Thanksgiving or even the Fourth of July. Why is that?

* * *

Mrs. Dorothy Shipman, city librarian, tells us that not very long ago she received a letter from a missionary couple of her acquaintance who are stationed at Jamaica. They mentioned in the letter that they were in need of hymn books and if she knew where some good used books could be secured, they would be very grateful. Mrs. Shipman was able to comply with their request and was all ready to have them sent away, when she learned, to her dismay that the cost of getting them to their destination via regular channels would be well over one hundred dollars. We suggested that perhaps some missionary organization knows of ways and means of getting these books shipped at cheaper rates. If anyone has any definite information on the subject, she would be glad to hear from them.

* * *

You perhaps noticed a short item in the Press a few days ago about a flock of wild geese that visited this area. We received the phone call concerning them just about dusk and were somewhat reluctant about investigating, but the car was handy and we skirted the shore in search of them. It was a cold and blustery evening—just the kind of weather for such creatures—and they seemed to be having the time of their lives splashing about in the waves. Then, of a sudden, they must have become aware of spying eyes, because they arose in a body, with a great splash, and disappeared in the darkness.

We have been interested in wild geese ever since a few years ago when we made the acquaintance of the late Jack Minor, who became an authority on wild geese after he had turned an old brickyard pit into a sanctuary. "You have often heard that expression 'silly old goose,'" he told us, "but believe me, he is one of the wisest creatures that ever breathed." Most everyone has seen wild geese, he told us, but few indeed are the men who can truthfully say that they ever shot one.

Back to Easter — our earliest recollection of this event dates back to the time we participated in observance in a Sunday school festival in a little chapel on the Chicago north side. Our memory is very hazy besause our years were very tender. What we do remember most distinctly was the gift of a beautiful celluloid Easter card. The message was in German, as it was a German Evangelical Sunday school. Mother kept the card as a memento for many years and it was a proud moment in our life when we were able to translate it.

What we have just said may lack reader interest, but we are sure many readers will perk up when we tell them that the site of that chapel, which was one of several buildings of a theological seminary, is now the location of the Cub's baseball park. And we'll venture the opinion that what is happening there this Easter Sunday is in sharp contrast with what happened there that Easter Sunday in the Nineties.

Manistique Churches To Feature Easter Message

Services in keeping with the glad Eastertide will be featured in all Manistique churches today. The church programs are replete with announcements of special music and other church useages peculiar to Easter. Easter flowers, with lilies predominating, will brighten the sanctuaries.

Good Friday observances in St. Francis de Sales Catholic, Zion Lutheran and union services at Bethel Baptist churches were favored with near capacity crowds of worshippers. The gloomy threatening day seemed to emphasize the spirit of the solemn occasion.

With bright and sunny skies the prospect for Sunday, the joyful significance of the resurrection gives promise of even greater response to the calls to worship.

St. Francis de Sales Catholic church will have morning masses at 6, 8 and 10 o'clock.

St. Alban's Episcopal church will have services at 7:30 o'clock in the evening, when the usual Easter Holy Communion service will be conducted by the Right Rev. Herman R. Page, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Northern Michigan.

The rite of Baptism, usually featured at Baptist churches on Easter will have its favored place on the church assignments at both the Bethel and the First Baptist churches in the evening.

All other churches, generally, will hold their services at regularly scheduled hours.

WILL DISCUSS JOB TRAINING

Effort To Fit Vets For Employment To Be Talked Over

Potential employers of veterans in Schoolcraft county are being urged to attend a meeting to be held at the court house at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening to hear a discussion of the part the public will have to play in the training of veterans for employment under the G. I. Bill of Rights or under Public Act 16, which is a training program for disabled veterans.

In the letter, which is being sent out to heads of various business firms throughout the city, the Manistique - Schoolcraft Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the meeting, explains, in part:

"We feel that you, as a potential employer have the interests of the veterans of this county at heart and that you may be interested in obtaining a better understanding of the benefits available to this community, either by apprenticeship or on-the-job training. Therefore, with the co-operation of the local Office of Veterans' Affairs; the Manistique public schools and the United States Employment Service, we have obtaining the services of Roy B. McCullem of Marquette, Mich., area consultant for the Veterans' Administration, and Thomas P. Beaton Jr., field representative from the Office of Veterans' Affairs, who will discuss this program in detail at the Schoolcraft county court house at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday evening.

"We would appreciate your attendance at this meeting as this program is of vital importance to the future of our community."

Tips for Farmers

SEED GRAIN TREATMENT

This spring, when the world needs every bushel of grain farmers can grow, it's more important than ever to treat seed grain. All small grains that suffer from smuts, rots and blights call for about the same treatment. You can do a good job with a mercury dust that you can get at any farmers' supply store. Follow the exact directions on the container and you will find that about a half ounce of the mercury dust per bushel of grain makes a big difference in your grain yields.

To treat the seed, you can roll the dust and grain together in a barrel or shovel it on a ten-foot square canvas until thoroughly mixed . . . that is, if you don't have a mixing machine. For points on treatment of home-made equipment, consult your county agricultural agent or look over some devices made by your neighbor.

It's good insurance against most seed-borne diseases to treat all seed wheat, oats and barley every year. Your seed and young seedlings will be protected from organisms in the soil that cause rot and seedling blights . . and the stand, yield and quality of your grains will be improved.

Conscription Is Theme Of Central PTA Round Table

An interesting and instructive discussion on the issue of peacetime conscription was presented Thursday evening at a meeting of the Lakeside-Central PTA at the Lakeside school. A large number of persons attending heard this very important subject analyzed by a panel of fathers and high school boys. It was brought out that although nearly all are strongly in favor of a program of military preparedness, there is a diversity of opinion as to whether compulsory military training for all young men is a necessary part of such a program. Some of the participants expressed themselves as being in favor of the present bill before congress known as the May-Gurney bill, others desired many modifications of the proposed legislation, while others believed that with an alert leadership this country could follow a program of preparedness without the necessity of training by compulsion.

Taking part in the discussion were: Dr. James Fyvie, Stanley Carlyon, Harvey Quick, Ben Karwoski, Roger Smith, Jack Rozich and George Babladelis. The program was arranged by Howard Graff, who acted as monitor for the panel.

At the business meeting preceding the program, the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. N. L. Lindquist; vice-president, Mrs. Carl Wedell; secretary, Mrs. Ralph Williams, and treasurer, Mrs. Scott Creighton.

Two delegates were selected to attend the state convention of Parent-Teacher Associations to be held at Sault Ste. Marie next month. Plans were discussed for the annual PTA dance May 24.

It was announced that Dr. Slutz will address the next meeting to be held at the high school on May 10. This speaker is well known to Manistique parents and his appearance will be the highlight of the year's program. A strong invitation is issued to the general public to take advantage of the opportunity to hear this outstanding speaker.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our darling, son and brother, Teddy Paulsen who died one year ago, April 22, 1945.

To meet in Heaven! how sweet the thought,
When lifes short years are past.
No more to weep, no more to part,
To meet in Heaven at last.

To meet in Heaven! O blessed thought
All care, all suffering o'er,
Meet in the mansions of the blest,
And love forever more.

To meet in heaven around the throne
Of him who died to save,
Be this our home our anxious cure
To meet beyond the grave.

DETROIT GRABS SECOND PLACE

Wakefield Drives In 5 Runs; Newhouser Gives Up Only 2 Hits

Cleveland, April 20 (AP) — Dick Wakefield broke out of his early season batting slump with a bang here today, driving in five runs with a single, double and triple as the Detroit Tigers downed the Cleveland Indians 7 to 0 on Hal Newhouser's two-hit pitching.

Detroit thus jumped from fourth to second place in American League standings, a game back of the undefeated Boston Red Sox. Manager Steve O'Neill nominated Frank (Stubby) Overmire, Detroit's tiny lefthander, to hurl against Bob Feller Sunday in the last half of the two-game series.

Wakefield, who had only one hit in his first nine times at bat this season, had a hand in the scoring of all but one of the Detroit runs today.

Four Runs On One Hit

His fourth inning double enabled Hank Greenberg to score from first. His sixth inning triple punched across Eddie Mayo and Barney McCosky to highlight Detroit's four-run spree on a single hit. Wakefield scored from third after Pat Mullin's fly in the big frame and an inning later singled with the bases loaded to score Eddie Lake and Mayo.

The Tigers, making the most of six hits to hang the defeat on Hamtramck Steve Gromek before Cleveland's opening day crowd of 42,775 paid, thus kept the pressure off Newhouser, who permitted only two singles in becoming the first big league pitcher this season to hang up two victories.

Only seven Cleveland batsmen reached first base, five of them on passes, and none of them advanced past second. Pat Seerey's single in the first inning and Gromek's hit in the fifth, both to left field, were the only Cleveland safeties as Newhouser fanned seven men, increasing his strikeout production to 15 in two games.

Gromek, who had little of his well-known 'spell" over the Tigers today, stayed through six innings and allowed only four hits, which, added to four walks and a couple of Cleveland errors, were worth five runs. Don Black pitched the seventh and eighth, yielding the last brace of Tiger runs, and Pete Center hurled the ninth for the Indians.

WHITE SOX 6, BROWNS 4

St. Louis, April 20 (AP) — The Chicago White Sox defeated the St. Louis Browns 6-4 today for their first American League victory of the season, with the veteran Wally Moses playing a standout role in their 13-hit offensive witnessed by 12,174 paying customers.

Moses tripled against the pavilion wall in right field in the fifth, later scoring on Don Kolloway's grounder, and then in the sixth with the bases filled, he cleared the bases with a double down the right field line. The blow put the sox in the lead 5-3.

The Browns attempted a ninth-inning rally but, with the bases loaded and one run already scored, Infielder Mark Christman hit into a double play to end the game.

FIRST SENATOR WIN

New York, April 20 (AP) — After losing their first four starts, the Washington Senators scored their initial victory of their new season by defeating the New York Yankees 7-3 today before a crowd of 38,289.

Four Yankee pitchers yielded 14 hits, with Stan Spence banging a homer off Rookie Lefty Bill Wight, and Buddy Lewis and Jack Sanford hitting triples against Lefty Herb Karpel.

The Bronx Bombers made but five hits off Dutch Leonard and Rae Scarborough. Leonard, who blanked the Bronxites for the first six rounds, was the winning pitcher.

HOMER WINS FOR SOX

Boston, April 20 (AP) — Johnny Pesky was the hero today as the Red Sox defeated the Philadelphia Athletics 2-1 before the largest American League opening day attendance in Boston history.

An eighth inning home run by Pesky gave the Sox their winning margin before a near capacity crowd of 30,446.

And it was Pesky's heady base running which gave the Sox their first run off Dick Fowler, who yielded only two hits throughout the game. Three of the A's hits were made in the third when they scored their lone run. Hal Peck singled through the box. Johnny Wallaesa doubled to right and Peck went to third whence he scored as Doerr threw out Sam Chapman.

GRECIAN RUNNER WINS MARATHON

BY BILL KING

Boston, April 20 (AP)—A true son of Phidippides, Grecian immortal who ran the first marathon almost 2,500 years ago, courageout Stylianos Kryiakides from war-ravaged Athens, today won the Boston A. A.'s 50th anniversary 26 miles-385 yards race from one of the most capable fields in its long history.

The 33-year-old Kyriakides, running only to gain American aid for his starving countrymen, ran shoulder to shoulder with Johnny Kelley, last year's winner, for almost 25 miles before uncorking a terrific closing drive that brought him to the finish line in two hours, 29 minutes, 27 seconds.

While placing second for the sixth time in the last ten B. A. A. races, Kelley, who also led the pack in 1935, arrived two minutes later than the Greek victor. At the end of a marathon two minutes means about a quarter mile, Race Manager Tom Kanaly explained.

The almost universal pre-race favorite, Gerry Cote of Montreal, who was bidding for his fourth B. A. A. victory since 1940, suffered severe stomach cramps about halfway along the hilly and torturous course but fought them off well enough to place third, in 2.36:34.

Kyriakides, who distributes bills for an Athens power company, is an experienced long distance runner and, during the German invasion of Greece, his life was spared because he had finished seventh in the Olympic marathon in Berlin in 1936. But the experts hereabouts, recalling his sorry efforts in the 1938 B. A. A. race, paid him scant attention.

"How can you beat a guy like that?" Kelley demanded after the race. "He wasn't running for himself; he was doing it for his country."

Now that he has been crowned with the victor's laurel wreath, the emotional Kyriakides, whose first act in victory was to embrace the disappointed Kelley, has volunteered to tour this country for a month or so in the interests of Greek relief.

The two greatest bumper crops in U. S. history were produced in 1943 and 1944.

BOROWY NICKED IN FIRST INNING

Harry (Cat) Brecheen Proves Jinx; 40,887 At Wrigley Field

BY JERRY LISKA

Chicago, April 20 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs raised their 1945 National League pennant before a capacity crowd of 40,887 at Wrigley Field today and then the St. Louis Cardinals promptly handed the champs their first setback in four starts, 2-0, behind the clever southpawing of Harry (The Cat) Brecheen.

After League President Ford Frick handed Manager Charley Grimm of the Cubs the bunting in a pre-game ceremony, the Cards nicked Hank Borowy, their 1945 nemesis, for a first-inning marker and that was the ball game, except for a nifty duel between Brecheen and Flordham Hank.

Brecheen scattered six hits, was in real trouble only one inning, the fifth, when the Cubs filled the bases with one out, and had all the Bruins tamed with the exception of Don Johnson, who poled three straight singles.

Borowy, who last season accounted for three of only six Cub victories in 22 starts against the Cards, was touched for seven hits before he yielded for a pinch-hitter in the eighth.

The game was played in 43-degree weather.

PITCHER STEALS HOME

Pittsburgh, April 20 (AP)—Truett (Rip) Sewell held the Cincinnati Reds to four hits today and gave the Pittsburgh Pirates their home opener by a 2-1 score.

A crowd of 27,891 saw opposing Pitcher Buckey Walters, who was touched for seven safeties, steal home with two out in the sixth inning; but it was the Reds' only counter.

But Third-sacker Bob Elliott had a perfect day at bat, three for three including two doubles. Elliott dashed in from second on Elbie Fletcher's two-bagger in the second inning and singled to bring in Jack Barrett with the winning tally in the sixth.

Bill Lee yielded 12 hits but went the distance for the Braves.

The Dodgers had tied the score in the eighth when Dixie Walker, popular veteran, pinched hit for Howie Schultz and hit the first ball offered by Relief Hurler Ace Adams over the right field fence for a home run.

Mickey Witek kept the Giants in the ball game. He drove in four runs and scored four times himself. His homer was made off Hugh Casey in the eighth with two mates on the base paths to give the Giants a temporary 8-7 lead.

BRAZIL RETIRES AS TITAN COACH

John Shada Of Windsor Named To Direct Detroit Cagers

Detroit, April 20 (AP) — Lloyd Brazil, University of Detroit athletic director, today announced his retirement as head basketball coach—a post he has held for 16 years—and named John Shada, director of athletics at Assumption College, Windsor, Ont., to direct the Titan cagers.

Brazil said he was relinquishing the cage reins because of added duties as athletic director and graduate manager of athletics. He will continue as head baseball coach, backfield coach in football and assistant coach in basketball.

Shada, prep star at Grand Rapids Catholic Central high, was a guard on University of Detroit football teams from 1935 to 1937, after which he became assistant freshman football coach of the Titans for one season. He coached football and basketball at Assumption three years and turned out winning teams in both sports at St. Fredericks high in 1941-42 before entering the Navy.

During the war Shada was a recreation officer for 41 months in Hawaii and on Midway Island and coached the Honolulu Bears in the Honolulu Football League in 1943. At U. of D. he will also serve as line coach under football boss Chuck Baer, reporting June 1 in time for the start of summer grid drills.

Brazil, who has beeen the guiding light behind a sports emphasis at U. of Detroit that has brought a record expansion in the athlete department. Football and track, abandoned during the war, were resumed this year at the same time that intercollegiate swimming became a part of the school's sports curriculum for the first time.

Brazil, who became head basketball coach following his graduation in 1930, guided the Titans to 186 victories in 303 games during his 16-year tenure and had only three losing seasons.

Wayne U. Defeated By Michigan, 13-1

Detroit, April 20 (AP) — Exploding for seven runs in the second inning as Tom Rosema blasted a grand slam home run, the University of Michigan defeated Wayne 13 to 1 here today for its second baseball victory of the season. The Wolverines whipped Wayne 11 to 1 yesterday at Ann Arbor.

Bliss Bowman, who worked the first six innings, and Cliff Wise and Dick Bodycombe, who followed, set down the Tartans with six hits, four of them off Bowman.

Myron Urdea's triple, followed by Don Torres' single, produced Wayne's lone run in the fourth inning.

A dozen men came up to bat in the Wolverines' big second inning with seven runs scrambling across the plate on three walks, a hit batsman and four hits, including Rosema's swat into Grand River. Three hits, a walk and error helped Michigan to four more runs in the third for an 11-0 lead. Altogether Michigan got 12 hits off three Wayne hurlers. The Tartars committed seven errors.

Bob Chappuis led the Wolverines at bat with three singles and a walk in five times up.

Thorne In Hospital, Says He'll Drive In Indianapolis Race

Indianapolis, April 20 (AP)—Hollywood Joe Thorne, lying in a hospital with assorted broken bones, flabbergasted Indianapolis Motor Speedway officials today by nominating himself to drive in the 500-mile race May 30.

The moneyed Californian cracked up with a motorcycle early last month. West Coast reports listed his injuries as two broken legs, a cracked wrist and a battered head.

Speedway President Wilbur Shaw said he was skeptical about Horne's ability to recover in time for the "500" and would insist on the stiffest physical examination ever given at the Speedway. Horne has started in four previous races.

"The 500-mile race is no place for anyone who is not in peak physical condition," Shaw commented. "And no one can get into shape for a race while lying on a hospital bed."

Thorne's two-car entry, with George Robson of Los Angeles named as the other driver, was among eight announced by Speedway officials late today. There now are 28 cars in the field for the 30th renewal of the classic, suspended during the war. The entry deadline is midnight, May 1.

ASSAULT LOOMS AS DERBY HOPE

New York, April 20 (AP)— The Texas Terror from the wide open spaces, stretch - burning Assault sizzled to a two-length victory in the Wood Memorial today and thereby moved right up into the select set for this year's Kentucky Derby on May 4.

In a slashing move which had more than a few of the 46,965 Jamaica customers calling him a chip off the old block, the son of the 1936 derby winner—Bold Venture—ripped past two of his more favored rivals in the stretch drive of this annual eastern derby preview and was going away from them at the wire.

Assault clicked off the mile and a sixteenth in 1:46 3-5.

Packing the derby load of 126 pounds for the first time, he was the best of a dozen derby candidates. William Dupon's favored Hampden, and Robert Bruce Livie's Marine Victory, finished second and third to him after practically racing the legs off each other at the head of the pack in the early going.

Born on the wide reaches of Robert J. Kleberg's King Ranch and trained by Maxie Hirsch, who also handled his daddy in the derby a decade ago, Assault did it the hard way today. A $19.70 for $2 shot in the betting, he sat some five lengths behind the flying pacemakers most of the way around the track, then went right up and passed them under Warren Mehrtens' steady steering, even though he was carried slightly wide.

A chocolate speedster who takes after his maternal granddaddy, Equipoise, more than he does after his old man, the driving Texan picked up a $22.600 paycheck for his day's work, giving him a bankroll of $30,100 for the year and $47,350 for his two seasons.

Baseball Players Practice Today

The Escanaba baseball club will practice this afternoon at 2 o'clock a tthe city diamond adjacent to the athletic field. All players are asked to report with their equipment.

Manager John Schwalbach will not be present at today's practice session as he will be attending a meeting of the Northern Wisconsin Michigan league at Iron Mountain. Jerome Deloria will be in charge of the workout today.

Vic Flint — By Michael O'Malley and Ralph Lane

I JUST GOT IN, LIBBY, AND I'M OFF TO AN EARLY DINNER AND THEN TO BED. HOW ARE YOU FEELING AFTER THAT MESS I GOT YOU INTO?
I'M FEELING FINE, VIC, BUT I DON'T BELIEVE A WORD YOU SAY. PLEASE BE CAREFUL.
I didn't want to be tailed, so I spent a couple of hours cabbing around town. When it was dark--

"Visiting Firemen" Here Are Making Tour Of U.S. As Part Of Their Job

A couple of alert, friendly and enterprising young Swedish firemen, who are guests here for a few days of the municipal fire department, are learning a lot about American fire fighting methods, seeing a lot of the country and having plenty of fun in the bargain—all because of an idea.

Bjorn Borg and Ragnar Brodell, both captains of the Helsingborg fire department in Sweden, decided sometime ago that they could learn best about the American system through personal observation and besides, both liked the notion of a tour through the United States.

Write For Papers

Being writers of some experience, the pair sold the idea to various Swedish newspapers as well as to the Helsinborg fire department and write weekly dispatches for papers in all four of the Scandinavian countries and for another in France. They are also making regular reports to the Helsingborg department.

The income from their writing, however, is only enough to pay their income tax which is exceedingly high—27 per cent—for unmarried men in Swedin.

In the first ten weeks of their eight month tour, which began in February, Borg and Brodell have inspected fire departments in Canada (they were impressed by the use of aircraft in forest fire detection work there), Ohio, West Virginia, Virginia and various parts of the east coast, as well as Michigan.

Lansing, they agreed, has a particularly fine department and the state's fire fighting set-up generally seems to be excellent, they said. The young captains thought the only departments not up to the standards of those in Swedin, which they have seen so far, were several on the east coast.

Swedish System

American fire fighting apparatus, organization and methods are very similar to those in their own country, the two reported, with a few notable exceptions. Only in Sweden's three largest cities do the fire departments have substations in various parts of the city; in all the others only one large station, housing all the men and equipment, is maintained. And each unit is practically self-sufficient; that is, each fireman is trained and equipped to handle another job in addition to his work as a fireman. He is a tailor, auto mechanic, painter, clerk or radioman and keeps occupied in the fire department at one of these tasks when not actually fire fighting. None of the work is performed in competition with local tradesmen, however, but only for the fire department. Each two firemen share a room but one of the two is always off duty.

In the Swedish system, firemen are transferred from time to time from one city to another to enable them to learn through experience the various methods of fire fighting which necessarily differ to some extent because of a community's size, population, its charteristic type of structure, etc.

Practically all of the equipment used in their country is of Swedish manufacture, though occasionally German equipment is imported.

Borg and Brodell have made similar tours through all of the Scandinavian countries and before the war, made inspection visits in France and Germany.

The Germans, they said, had excellent fire fighting systems.

Like the U. P.

They like Michigan and the Upper Peninsula and much of the terrain they have seen here reminds them of their beloved Sweden. They are both full of praise for the hospitality of Michigan's state police, the personnel of fire departments they have visited and of the forestry department.

Prices Scare 'Em

Though they are enjoying their tour immensely, the young captains are a little appalled by the prices of commodities in postwar America and they travel light, cook their own meals when possible and have several times used their sleeping bags to camp out.

Having no prearranged itinerary, Borg and Brodell go where they can profit most by the experience. They expect to leave Escanaba in a few days and will travel next to Milwaukee and Chicago, then "probably" to Minnesota. Later they will go to Montana and various parts of the west; they hope to include British Columbia in their tour, too.

But even if they have to miss some of America, their idea has taken them a long way already.
